About Us

New Technology Old School Values

Dave Redkey and his crew at Redkey's Refrigeration have lived and worked in Western Montana for decades. They know what construction companies, medical facilities, breweries, distilleries, and home owners need in HVAC and refrigeration services. They've become trusted partners of companies and home owners alike in the Bitterroot and Missoula Valleys. This reputation is coupled with the latest in HVAC and refrigeration technology, installed and serviced by certified professionals. We work with leading partners in the field.

Forging strong partnerships is key to getting our customers the products they need in a timely manner.

Redkey's is truly a full service HVAC and refrigeration company – serving commercial, industrial, and residential systems, applications, and controls.
